We've made it through
We've seen a lot of things
Some old. Some new.

Ms. NCCU walked down the aisle
Ms. Homecoming had her day
All was so fruitful and beautiful
So close, but yet so far

Every during the seasons
We had many games
We had many disappointments
But all with the name

We've learned from these mistakes
And we move from day to day
But we're not lost
For we're close, but yet so far away

African Ambassadors
And others from all around
Came to "check out"
One well known "Eagle Town"

During the course of the year
With the Convocation Day
We found them where there was a
Not close, but yet so far away.

And now we're at the end of our journey
Let this message be beginning
Our fight is not over
Do some things while you're here

When we leave in a year
Let our stay be in vain
Turn so close, but yet so far away
To insurmountable gain!

Barbara McPhail

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This year's edition of the eagle is being dedicated to Dr. Helen G. Edmonds on behalf of her numerous personal and university affiliated accomplishments. Some of these accomplishments include the position of Dean of the Graduate School (1964-1971), and Professor Emeritus of North Carolina Central University (1971-1977).

Dr. Edmonds has been a motivational and inspirational leader to students and administration alike for a number of years and continues to be active in University related affairs. I am sure I speak for the entire university community by stating that her undying interest in the future growth of the student body, not only in sheer numbers, but in the quality attained by the students are greatly appreciated by all parties concerned. According to Dr. Edmonds, "The Eagle is no ordinary!" So, we as students must strive to fulfill the ideals of our highly distinguished alumna, Dr. Helen G. Edmonds.

The bonafide student body of North Carolina Central University acknowledge the many services rendered to this university and student body by Dr. James F. Blue, Vice Chancellor of Student Affairs; Dr. Rodger Bryant, Assistant Vice Chancellor of Student Affairs; and Dr. George Reid.

An Educator Is Born

The history of North Carolina Central University is intimately linked with the life of James E. Shepard. When he was 35 years of age, he founded the institution; for the remaining 37 years of his life he carried its responsibility, directed its course, secured the funds for its operation and extension, and molded its course.

Dr. James E. Shepard was born in Raleigh, North Carolina, November 3, 1875 to Reverend Augustus Shepard and the former Hattie Whitted. His father, a Baptist minister served as pastor of the White Rock Baptist Church of Durham.

Being of a religious family background, James Shepard was raised to love Jesus. He was baptized at an early age. He was educated at Shaw University, one of the oldest Black Institutions in the country, which had been founded in the early wave of interest in Black education by Major Tupper.

James E. Shepard was trained as a pharmacist and opened the first Black drug store in Durham. Later, he became a licensed preacher, in order to present the needs of his school from the pulpits of his brethren.

In his druggist days, he became interested in politics and was appointed deputy collector of internal revenue, with offices in Raleigh. He was considering the campaign of Congress as successor to Representative Cheatham, last black to represent North Carolina in the national legislature (at that time), when he accepted appointment into a post in the office of the Register of Deeds of Washington, D.C.

Annie D. Shepard
 Author of N.C.C.U.'s
 Alma Mater

ALMA MATER

Mrs. Annie Day Shepard apparently held only one title at this university her husband founded in 1910. For three years she was identified as Matron of the Dining Hall. For thirty-six years Mrs. Shepard was devoted to counseling students. If not for her efforts in helping students, many of them would not have achieved their wants and wishes.

Mrs. Shepard was the author to the words to the university's Alma Mater, whose three verses are still sung today. Mrs. Shepard died February 8, 1947. Her funeral was conducted on the following Monday. That morning an address by Langston Hughes was scheduled on the N.C.C.U. campus. The celebrated poet dedicated a poem, "Dear Lovely Death" to Mrs. Shepard.

Mrs. Shepard was married to James E. Shepard November 7, 1895. To their union, two daughters were born — Majorie and Annie Day.

"Dear Old N.C.C."

The sloping hills, the verdant green
 The lovely blossoms' beauteous sheen
 Surround our college proud and Gray
 Where wave our colors Maroon and Gray
 What matters it how far we roam.
 Our thots will oft return to home
 And hearts will e'er be true to thee,
 Our Alma Mater N.C.C.

Chorus

Then Rah! Rah! Rah! For our colors so gay!
 Dear Old N.C.C.'s Maroon and Gray
 Thy Sons and Daughters will honor thee,
 Dear Old N.C.C.

You send us forth with hearts of love
 So like a blessing from above.
 And from the path we'll never stray
 Our dear Alma Mater Maroon and Gray
 We'll work and fight, we'll win our way,
 When duty calls we shall obey
 And may we e'er return to thee
 Our Alma Mater, N.C.C.

This Is
EAGLE Country

The North Carolina Central University campus is 105 acres of rolling land within the city limits of Durham, North Carolina. NCCU's 40-some buildings are connected to one another by tree-lined walks and sit on green lawns.

Dr. James E. Shepard founded NCCU in 1910 and served as its president until his death in 1947. Students and faculty members are reminded by this statue, erected by North Carolina's Prince Hall Masons, of the principles the founder stood for. The motto of the school, "Truth and Service," embodies those principles.

A sense of community is cultivated at North Carolina Central. Faculty and students share a common goal, and the achievements of NCCU graduates serve to illustrate the successes born in the classrooms of North Carolina Central University.

To Work And Study

Flowering and fruiting trees and shrubs perfume the air for nine months of the year as NCCU students walk from classrooms to dormitories. Modern design blends with Georgian lines in the campus buildings. NCCU is a beautiful place.

NCCU offers undergraduate, graduate and professional programs in its five schools. In keeping with the principles of "Truth and Service," many programs are oriented to community and national needs: criminal justice, public administration, health administration, education, nursing, library science, and many others. The liberal arts approach to education is seen as training for leadership in the community.

THANK YOU N.C.U

To Thee I Say, "Thank You,"
for showing me the way to go,
and giving me an education,
and a will to want to know.

To Thee I Say, "Thank You,"
for teaching me the art of sharing,
and helping me to learn,
that you can gain from caring

To Thee I Say, "Thank You,"
for those years well spent,
in a college life of learning,
but a community environment

To Thee I Say, "Thank You,"
even for the hard times I went through,
Registration, paying fees and buying books,
It was well worth it, and I Thank Thee
N.C.U!!!!

In Honor of Wayne Maurice Dunn

In Memory of
WAYNE MAURICE DUNN

It is with sincere regrets that we inform you that during a planning workshop in Morehead City, North Carolina, Wayne Maurice Dunn, born February 2, 1952 in San Diego, California and formerly of Brooklyn New York, a counselor and instructor of North Carolina Central University, died by accidental drowning on Wednesday, May 30, 1979 in Atlantic Beach.

Mr. Dunn received the B.A. Degree in 1973 from Shaw University and the M.A. Degree in 1976 from NCCU.

In addition to his responsibilities as instructor/Counselor, Mr. Dunn was also a member of and advisor of the Groove Pi Groove Social Fellowship, and advisor and Co-Founder of the Committee on Student Discipline.

A Hero at 27

He darted out to save one who had drifted afar, for the little raft from the ebb tide knew not when to stop

He grasped the beautiful maiden as if to say

HOLD ON!

PEACE IS HERE!

HAVE NO FEAR!

But

perchance the hero himself smoothly released his protective hand from the maiden fair and himself drifted away

Away from the distressful maiden — away —

Away from the lifeguards —

Away from all who shared inviting smiles, jokes,

Laughter, sunshine and play —

Away from any bother whate'er — away —

PEACE HE DESIRED! PEACE HE SOUGHT!

PEACE HE FOUND!

— without splattering against the vaulting waves or grasping for breath amidst an engulfing sea!

Yet he went under:

Go back for him?

He went under as if by a martyr's choice,
without inducing even a ripple in matter
so familiar to him.

MUST THE BRAVE TASTE DEATH BUT ONCE?

How does one say "Good-bye" to a hero?

Our words are too shallow, too empty of meaning to truly reflect the mode of our hero.

At best, we banded in humility — resolve not to multiply that emptiness with nought still.

We, nonetheless, extend to our hero endless THANKS for a renewed spirit of HOPE.

Our frailty yet forces us to say essentially:

"PEACE be unto you, Brother Wayne! Your living was not in vain!"

Your heart still smiles to TRUTH and SERVICE against that mysterious undercurrent which invited you to a Higher realm of glory.

Wayne, indeed we — your beloved family and friends, your neighbors, your administrators, your co-workers, your counselees — accept your tune of peace, service and good will, which you have bequeathed to us.

We ACCEPT THE CHALLENGE OF A SPIRITED HERO:

We will uphold "Truth and Service!"

Wayne Maurice Dunn, our HERO, we thank you for immeasurable COURAGE and STRIDE!

Wayne Maurice Dunn, our HERO, we salute you!!!

JOHN DOUGLAS LENNON

Serving God Through Service To Man

By the words of a wise old seer, "He who would be the greatest among you must be the servant of all." This surely must have been the tenet by which this man patterned his all-too-brief life, for his record of service to his fellowmen reads much like a WHO'S WHO AMONG SERVANTS.

There is clear evidence of his anomalous talents and interests in that he associated himself with many phases of activities and served well with all: teacher, Millgrove and Merrick-Moore Schools; principal, Little River School; dean of men and director of student life for men, North Carolina Central University; twice-elected vice-chairman, Durham City School Board of Education; trustee and Sunday School Teacher of the PALS Class, White Rock Baptist Church; active member, Durham Committee on the Affairs of Black People; member, North Carolina and National School Boards; past president, Association of Non-White Concerns, (a division of the North Carolina Personnel and Guidance Association). At the time of his death, he was serving as president-elect of the Association of Non-White Concerns, (a division of the American Personnel and Guidance Association); member, Chamber of Commerce Education Committee; member, Governor Dan K. Moore Committee on Education.

His services to his fellowmen did not end with involvement in church and professional affairs, but included also circumvolution in matters of community interests. In this respect, he served as former president of the City Schools System Parent-Teacher Council, the Durham County Human Relations Commission, the North Carolina Agriculture Teachers Association, Chairman of the Retired Senior Citizens Volunteer Program, Troy House and Family Counseling Services.

This was JOHN DOUGLAS LENNON, the manner of the man, giant-like in SERVICE.

His places among us may be substituted, but they can never be filled. Only seldom can one so gifted, so willing, so tenacious, so dedicated pass our way.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Thelma Cumbo Lennon; two daughters, Mrs. Carolyn Shannon of Los Angeles and Mrs. Marjorie Paul of Miami; four sisters Mrs. Jessie Jacobs of Wilmington, Miss Mamie Lennon, Dr. Marjorie Zober and Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, all of New York City, ten nieces and nephews.

*Fading away, like the stars of the morning,
Losing their light in the glorious sun,
Thus has he passed from the earth and its toiling
Long to be remembered for what he has done.
Prayerfully Submitted,
THE FAMILY*

FREDERICK DOUGLASS
(1817-1895)

Born into slavery in Tuckahoe, Maryland, Frederick Douglass escaped to New York in 1838. After making a rousing speech denouncing slavery, Douglass was hired as an agent by an abolitionist society. Almost overnight he became the leading black spokesman in the anti-slavery cause. There was thunder in his words.

From FOURTH OF JULY ORATION, 1852
By Frederick Douglass

Fellow-citizens, pardon me, allow me to ask, why am I called upon to speak here to-day? What have I, or those I represent, to do with your national independence? Are the great principles of political freedom and of natural justice, embodied in that Declaration of Independence, extended to us? And am I, therefore, called upon to bring our humble offering to the national altar, and to confess the benefits and express devout gratitude for the blessings resulting from your independence to us?

Would to God, both for your sakes and ours, that an affirmative answer could be truthfully returned to these questions! Then would my task be light, and my burden easy and delightful. For who is there so cold, that a nation's sympathy could not warm him? Who so obdurate and dead to the claims of gratitude, that would not thankfully acknowledge such priceless benefits? Who so stolid and selfish, that would not give his voice to swell the hallelujahs of a nation's jubilee, when the chains of servitude had been torn from his limbs? I am not that man. In a case like that, the dumb might eloquently speak, and the "lame man leap as an hart."

Organizations & Black History

But, such is not the state of the case. I say it with a sad sense of the disparity between us. I am not included within the pale of this glorious anniversary! Your high independence only reveals the immeasurable distance between us. The blessings in which you, this day, rejoice, are not enjoyed in common. — The rich inheritance of justice, liberty, prosperity and independence, bequeathed by your fathers, is shared by you, not by me. The sunlight that brought life and healing to you, has brought stripes and death to me. This Fourth July is yours, not mine. You may rejoice, I must mourn. To drag a man in fetters into the grand illuminated temple of liberty, and call upon him to join you in joyous anthems, were inhuman mockery and sacrilegious irony. Do you mean, citizens, to mock me, by asking me to speak to-day? If so, there is a parallel to your conduct. And let me warn you that it is dangerous to copy the example of a nation whose crimes, towering up to heaven, were thrown down by the breath of the Almighty, burying that nation in irrecoverable ruin! I can to-day take up the plaintive lament of a peeled and woe-smitten people!

Excerpts of Historical Documents

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

(Signed September 17, 1787)

WE THE PEOPLE of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

LINCOLN'S HOUSE DIVIDED SPEECH

Springfield, Illinois, June 17, 1858

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Convention: If we could first know where we are, and whither we are tending, we could better judge what to do, and how to do it. We are now far into the fifth year since a policy was initiated with the avowed object and confident promise of putting an end to slavery agitation. Under the operation of that policy, that agitation has not only not ceased, but has constantly augmented. In my opinion it will not cease until a crisis shall have been reached and passed. "A house divided against itself cannot stand." I believe this government cannot endure permanently half slave and half free . . .

JOHN BROWN'S LAST SPEECH

November 2, 1859

He was indicted for treason and for conspiring with slaves to commit murder, convicted, and sentenced to be hanged.

I have, may it please the Court, a few words to say.

In the first place, I deny everything but what I have all along admitted, — the design on my part to free the slaves. I intended certainly to have made a clean thing of that matter, as I did last winter, when I went into Missouri and there took slaves without the snapping of a gun on either side, moved them through the country, and finally left them in Canada. I designed to have done the same thing again, on a larger scale. That was all I intended. I never did intend murder, or treason, or the destruction of property, or to excite or incite slaves to rebellion, or to make insurrection . . .

This court acknowledges, as I suppose, the validity of the law of God. I see a book kissed here which I suppose to be the Bible, or at least the New Testament. That teaches me that all things whatsoever I would that men should do to me, I should do even so to them. It teaches me, further, to "remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them." I endeavored to act up to that instruction. I say, I am yet too young to understand that God is any respecter of persons. I believe that to have interfered as I have done — as I have always freely admitted I have done — in behalf of His despised poor, was not wrong, but right. Now, if it is deemed necessary that I should forfeit my life for the furtherance of the ends of justice, and mingle my blood further with the blood of my children and with the blood of millions in this slave country whose rights are disregarded by the wicked, cruel, and unjust enactments, — I submit; so let it be done!

SOUTH CAROLINA ORDINANCE OF SECESSION

December 20, 1860

We, the people of the State of South Carolina, in Convention assembled, do declare and ordain, and it is hereby declared and ordained, that the ordinance adopted by us in Convention, on the 23rd day of May, in the year of our Lord 1788, whereby the Constitution of the United States of America was ratified, and also all Acts and parts of Acts of the General Assembly of this State ratifying the amendments of the said Constitution, are hereby repealed, and that the union was subsisting between South Carolina and other States under the name of the United States of America is hereby dissolved.

THE EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION

January 1, 1863

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA: A Proclamation

Whereas on the 22nd day of September, A. D. 1862, a proclamation was issued by the President of the United States, containing, among other things, the following, to wit:

"That on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1863, all persons held as slaves within any State or designated part of a State the people whereof shall then be in rebellion against the United States shall be then, thenceforward, and forever free; and the executive government of the United States, including the military and naval authority thereof, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons and will do no act to repress such persons, or any of them in any efforts they may make for their actual freedom. . . .

GEORGE WASHINGTON CARVER
(1864-1943)

George Washington Carver showed an unusually deep interest in plants even as a child. When called to join the faculty at Tuskegee Institute in Alabama, he pursued his interest in agricultural research, discovering more than 500 uses of the peanut, pecan, and sweet potato. This former slave child, valued at $300 — the price of a horse — became the world's foremost agricultural chemist.

Outstanding Black Scientists Have Earned The Name of Geniuses

(1883-1941)

The foremost name among Afro-American biologists is Ernest E. Just. Earning academic honors at Dartmouth College, this brilliant investigator of cell life and egg fertilization was later awarded his doctorate at the University of Chicago. Acknowledged as the individual who had done the most during 1914 to advance the cause of black Americans, Ernest E. Just had done more — he had advanced the frontiers of knowledge.

(1904-1950)

Only after years of research did Doctor Charles Drew find a way to preserve blood for emergency use. Organizing the Red Cross Blood Bank, this brilliant pioneer in blood plasma research was responsible in great measure for the lives saved by blood transfusions in World War II. Sadly, in 1950 Doctor Drew was injured in an automobile accident and bled to death before he could receive a blood transfusion.

JAMES WELDON JOHNSON

(1871-1938)

Born into average circumstances in Jacksonville, Florida, James Weldon Johnson became one of the most distinguished black Americans of the early twentieth century. As an editor, teacher, essayist, poet, attorney, novelist, and lyricist for Broadway shows, his influence was felt in many fields. Few men of any age or race can claim a wider range of interests or talents.

LIFT EV'RY VOICE AND SING

(National Negro Anthem)

by James Weldon Johnson

Life ev'ry voice and sing, Till earth and heaven ring,
Ring with the harmonies of Liberty;
Let our rejoicing rise High as the list'ning skies,
Let it resound loud as the rolling sea.

Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has taught us
Sing a song full of the hope that the present has brought us;
Facing the rising sun of our new day begun,
Let us march on till victory is won.

Stony the road we trod, Bitter the chast'ning rod,
Felt in the days when hope unborn had died;
Yet with a steady beat, Have not our weary feet
Come to the place for which our fathers signed?

We have come over a way that with tears has been watered
We have come, treading our path thro' the blood of the slaughtered;
Our from the gloomy past, Till now we stand at last
Where the white gleam of our bright star is cast.

PAUL LAURENCE DUNBAR
(1872-1906)

Paul Dunbar was an elevator boy when he put together his first collection of verses. Other books followed. While many of his most beautiful works were written in conventional English, his most popular ones were in the quaint broken English of the newly freed slaves. Paul Dunbar was not quite thirty-four when he died of tuberculosis in 1906.

THE COLORED SOLDIERS
by Paul Laurence Dunbar

If the muse were mine to tempt it
And my feeble voice were strong,
If my tongue were trained to measures,
I would sing a stirring song.
I would sing a song heroic
Of those noble sons of Ham,
Of the gallant colored soldiers
Who fought for Uncle Sam!

In the early days you scorned them,
And with many a flip and flout
Said "These battles are the white man's,
And the whites will fight them out."
Up the hills your fought and faltered,
In the vales you strove and bled,
While your ears still heard the thunder
Of the foes' advancing tread.

Then distress fell on the nation,
And the flag was drooping low;
Should the dust pollute your banner?
No! the nation shouted, No!
So when War, in savage triumph,
Spread abroad his funeral pall —
Then you called the colored soldiers,
And they answered to your call.

And like hounds unleashed and eager
For the life blood of the prey,
Sprung they forth and bore them bravely
In the thickest of the fray,
And where'er the fight was hottest,
Where the bullets fastest fell,
There they pressed unblanched and fearless
At the very mouth of hell.

Ah, they rallied to the standard
To uphold it by their might;
None were stronger in the labors,
None were braver in the fight.
From the blazing breach of Wagner
To the plains of Ouster,
They were foremost in the fight
Of the battles of the free.

And at Pillow! God have mercy
On the deeds committed there,
And the souls of those poor victims
Sent to Thee without a prayer.
Let the fulness of Thy pity
O'er the hot wrought spurts sway
Of the gallant colored soldiers
Who fell fighting on that day!

Yes, the blacks enjoy their freedom,
And they won it dearly, too;
For the life blood of their thousands
Did the southern fields bedew.
In the darkness of their bondage,
In the depths of slavery's night,
Their muskets flashed the dawning,
And they fought their way to light.

They were comrades then and brothers,
Are they more or less to-day?
They were good to stop a bullet
And to front the fearful fray.
They were citizens and soldiers,
When rebellion raised its head;
And the traits that made them worthy, —
Ah! those virtues are not dead.

They have shared your nightly vigils,
They have shared your daily toil;
And their blood with yours commingling
Has enriched the Southern soil.
They have slept and marched and suffered
'Neath the same dark skies as you,
They have met as fierce a foe man,
And have been as brave and true.

And their deeds shall find a record
In the registry of Fame;
For their blood has cleansed completely
Every blot of Slavery's shame,
So all honor and all glory
To those noble sons of Ham —
The gallant colored soldiers
Who fought for Uncle Sam!

LANGSTON HUGHES

(1902-1967)

Langston Hughes, a major figure in the "Harlem Renaissance," was one of the most honored and versatile authors in the United States. While known primarily as a poet, he wrote novels, songs, plays, and biographies. Langston Hughes wrote mostly about common people, chiefly black people. Writing for children as well as adults, he used words that people understood. And he wrote with pride.

NEGRO

by Langston Hughes

I am a Negro:

Black as the night is black,
Black like the depths of my Africa.

I've been a slave;

Caesar told me to keep his door-steps clean.
I brushed the boots of Washington.

I've been a worker;

Under my hand the pyramids arose.
I made mortar for the Woolworth Building.

I've been a singer:

All the way from Africa to Georgia
I carried my sorrow songs.
I made ragtime.

I've been a victim:

The Belgians cut off my hands in the Congo.
They lynch me still in Mississippi.

I am a Negro:

Black as the night is black.
Black like the depths of my Africa.

WILLIAM WELLS BROWN
(1816-1884)

William Wells Brown, an escapee from slavery, first served as an assistant to the fiery abolitionist, Elijah Lovejoy. Under Lovejoy's tutelage, William Brown became an anti-slavery lecturer and writer. In 1853 he became the first Afro-American author to write and publish a novel, Clotel. William Wells Brown was also an historian of the pre-Civil War period.

GWENDOLYN BROOKS
(1917-)

In 1945 A Street in Bronzeville was published. Though it was highly praised, for Gwendolyn Brooks it was only a beginning. For her second volume of poems, Annie Allen, she won the 1950 Pulitzer Prize for poetry. Though residing in Chicago, Miss Brooks has accepted invitations to read her poems throughout the country. She responded with special delight to an invitation in 1962. It was signed by President John F. Kennedy.

CHARLES WADDELL CHESNUTT
(1858-1932)

Charles Waddell Chesnutt was among the first American novelists to be concerned with the problems facing black people in a predominantly white society. Unrecognizable as an Afro-American himself, Charles Chesnutt often chose for his themes the disappointments of those who attempted to "cross" the color line. As a pioneer in "problem" novels, he secured a ranking position among American novelists.

RICHARD WRIGHT
(1918-1960)

Mississippi-born Richard Wright, a product of oppression and poverty, was one of the first novelists to arouse the nation's conscience to the plight of black Americans. Through his convincing novels, such as Native Son and Black Boy, Wright hoped to kindle a sense of justice in people's hearts. The fact that much of the material for his novels was drawn from his own experience helps to explain the integrity and power of his writing.

LORRAINE HANSBERRY
(1930-1965)

The first lady of Afro-American ancestry to have a play on Broadway was also the first black woman to win the New York Drama Critics Circle Award. Lorraine Hansberry's successful stage production, A Raisin in the Sun, was later made into a motion picture. Sadly, Miss Hansberry's career was cut short by her untimely death at the age of thirty-four.

MARGARET A. WALKER
(1915-)

From her earliest years Margaret A. Walker found satisfaction in writing poetry. When only an adolescent, she met nationally-known Langston Hughes. Accepting his advice, she submitted her verses to magazines and book publishers. With her first book of poems, For My People, she won a 1942 Yale University award and immediate acceptance in prominent literary circles.

CARTER GOODWIN WOODSON
(1875-1950)

Carter Goodwin Woodson devoted his life to the study of black culture. Founder and editor of the Journal of Negro History, Dr. Woodson was also the author of numerous books, the most important of which is The Negro in Our History. For the vast reservoir of information that he compiled on the achievements of Afro-Americans, Dr. Carter Woodson was awarded the Spingarn Medal in 1926.

CARL T. ROWAN
(1925-)

In 1964 President Lyndon Johnson appointed journalist Carl T. Rowan Director of the United States Information Agency. It is the duty of this agency to make American foreign policy clear to the peoples of the world. For newspaperman Rowan it was a high honor. Carl T. Rowan had already served as a lecturer for the State Department and Ambassador to Finland.

Dr. KENNETH B. CLARK
(1914-)

Slight, soft-spoken Dr. Kenneth Clark, an educator, psychologist and social scientist, is best known for his study of the effects of racial discrimination. The study was cited by the Supreme Court in its 1954 school desegregation ruling. The founder of the Northside Center for Child Development in Harlem sees no end to the "ghetto cycle" without equal opportunities and an upgrading of education for black Americans.

JEFFERSON F. LONG
(1836-1900)

Jefferson F. Long was the first Afro-American Congressman from the state of Georgia. Beginning his career as a tailor, Jefferson Long soon became interested in politics. Nominated by the Republican Party, Long won election to the 41st Congress. While in office he urged protection from violence for black voters. Jefferson Long later served as a delegate to the Republican Convention of 1880.

PINCKNEY B. S. PINCHBACK
(1817-1921)

Pinckney Pinchback began life as a slave. Given his freedom, he moved to Ohio where he worked on a riverboat. Later Pinckney enlisted in the Union Army. During Reconstruction P. B. S. Pinchback was elected Lieutenant Governor of Louisiana. For his local support during political campaigns, Pinckney Pinchback was appointed to various offices by grateful Republican presidents throughout the remainder of his years.

JOHN R. LYNCH
(1847-1939)

John R. Lynch, born a slave in Louisiana, was the first Afro-American to preside over a national convention of the Republican Party. It was a fitting tribute to the man who had been elected three times to the Congress of the United States. John Lynch had previously served in the Mississippi State Legislature, where he was Speaker of the House.

OSCAR DePRIEST
(1871-1951)

When Oscar DePriest was elected to the 71st Congress, he was the only Afro-American in the House of Representatives. DePriest was also the first of his race to be elected to Congress in the twentieth century. Serving three terms in Congress as a representative from Illinois, Oscar DePriest became the spokesman for the nation's twelve million black Americans.

THURGOOD MARSHALL
(1898-)

Thurgood Marshall's appointment as an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court was confirmed by the United States Senate in September of 1967. He was the first of his race to be so honored. For the scholarly attorney, it was a second major triumph. Previously, on May 17, 1954, Marshall's persuasive arguments before the Supreme Court won the decision which declared "separate but equal schooling" unconstitutional.

CONSTANCE BAKER MOTLEY
(1921-)

Appointment to a Federal judgeship in 1966 by President Johnson marked the high point of an illustrious career for Constance Baker Motley. Previous honors included election to the New York State Senate and to the presidency of the Borough of Manhattan. Earlier, Mrs. Motley had served as an attorney before the Supreme Court in cases involving Civil Rights.

ROBERT WEAVER
(1897-)

On January 13, 1966, Robert Clifton Weaver was named Secretary of the newly-created Department of Housing and Urban Development by President Lyndon Johnson. Thus Robert Weaver became the first Afro-American ever to be appointed to a President's cabinet. His job was to improve transportation, to fight air and water pollution, and to eliminate slums—in essence, to make cities better places in which to live.

SHIRLEY CHISHOLM
(1924-)

The outspoken Mrs. Shirley Chisholm, representing the newly-created 12th Congressional District in New York City, is the first black woman ever to be elected to Congress. Born in Brooklyn, the petite and unpredictable Mrs. Chisholm was educated at Brooklyn College and Columbia University. Her comet-like political rise has been attributed to her highly progressive political stance, her unusual speaking ability, and her grit.

(1929-)

A U. S. Representative from the 18th District of Texas, member of the state bars of Texas and Massachusetts, she is the first black to serve in the Texas Senate since Reconstruction. Recognized as one of the most powerful members of the 294th Congress, she is often called "The Gentle Lady from Texas," although on occasion she can be anything but gentle. She was one of the members voting to censure President Nixon.

CAMPUS ECHO

THE CAMPUS ECHO

The purpose of THE CAMPUS ECHO is to build pride which is the core of school spirit; to interpret and fairly report newsworthy events in the life of NCCU; and to provide medium of expression for students in writing for a news publication.

Larry D. Revelle, a senior English major with a concentration in Journalism, took his job as Editor seriously. That's just one more reason why 1979-'80 will always be remembered at NCCU as YEAR OF THE CAMPUS ECHO. The staff stood firmly by its motto: "If you didn't know about it, it's probably because you didn't read THE CAMPUS ECHO."

"I HAVE A DREAM"

I say to you today, my friends, that in spite of the difficulties and frustrations of the moment I still have a dream. It is a dream deeply footed in the American dream.

I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed; "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal."

I have a dream that one day on the red hills of Georgia the sons of former slaves and the sons of former slaveholders will be able to sit down together at the table of brotherhood.

I have a dream that one day even the state of Mississippi, a desert state sweltering with the heat of unjust and oppression, will be transformed into an oasis of freedom and justice.

I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character.

I have a dream today.

I have a dream that one day every valley shall be exalted, every hill and mountain shall be made low, the rough places will be made plains, and the crooked places will be made straight, and the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together.

This is our hope. This is the faith with which I return to the South. With the faith we will be able to hew out of the mountain of despair a stone of hope. With this faith we will be able to transform the jangling discords of our nation into a beautiful symphony of brotherhood. With this faith we will be able to work together, to pray together, to struggle together, to go to jail together, to stand up for freedom together, knowing that we will be free one day.

This will be the day when all of God's children will be able to sing with new meaning.

My country, 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty
Of thee I sing
Land where my fathers died,
Land of the pilgrims' pride,
From every mountainside
Let freedom ring.

And if America is to be a great nation, this must become true. So let freedom ring from the prodigious hilltops of New Hampshire. Let freedom ring from the mighty mountains of New York. Let freedom ring from the heightening Alleghenies of Pennsylvania!

Let freedom ring from the snowcapped Rockies of Colorado!

Let freedom ring from the curvaceous peaks of California.

But not only that; let freedom ring from Stone Mountain of Georgia!

Let freedom ring for Lookout Mountain of Tennessee!

Let freedom ring from every hill and molehill of Mississippi. From every mountainside, let freedom ring.

When we let freedom ring, when we let it ring from every village and every hamlet, from every state and every city, we will be able to speed up that which says, there all go God's children, black men and white men, Jews and Gentiles, Protestants and Catholics, will be able to join hands and sing in the words of the old Negro spiritual, "Free at last! free at last! thank God of almighty, we are free at last!"

FRESHMEN GIVEN RED

CARPET TREATMENT

Some 300 freshmen were on campus this summer attending North Carolina Central University's first annual Freshman Orientation Program. The three day session gave freshmen a chance to pre-register, pay bills, tour campus, and learn about their intended majors and financial aid. Central put on its best show for the new students and treated them royally. Most freshmen agree that the program was advantageous and tremendously helpful.

NCCU's students are enrolled in five schools: the Undergraduate and Graduate Schools of Arts and Sciences, the School of Business, the School of Law, and the School of Library Science. Several programs offered at North Carolina Central University train students for "new careers," careers which did not exist a few years ago or for which the only training available was "on-the-job."

Reach for it.

Somebody get it.

Where's the ball?

What a fake.

Who will get the ball?

Wanda, No. 23 with a jump shot.

Get off my back.

Rising high off the floor.

Talking it over, during a time-out.

What form for a lady's jump shot

HISTORY OF N. C. C. U. WOMEN SOFTBALL

Softball for women at N. C. C. U., started in 1977, when the need to increase women intercollegiate sports aroused. In 1977 the first head coach was Mrs. Shuler, assisted by Charles Edwards, and Willie Gay. In 1978 the head coach for the lady eagles softball team was Ms. McCormick, assistant coaches Willie Gay and Brenda McKoy. In 1979 the N. C. C. U. women softball team head coach was Willie Gay with no assistants. Also, under the direction of Willie Gay, the team won the first intercollegiate trophy for any women's sport at N. C. C. U., finishing second in A&T State University invitational tournaments.

Boy, I've just got to hit this

Spuggy says one down and one more to go

Coach Gay gives Janice a little advice

Gloria puts all she has in that

Power house "Fox" at it again

No matter how low it is, I'll get it

Garden of Success

Young people, don't be left behind
Strive for success, and success is what you will find:
Remember that eagle that soars
through the sky.
Lift your eyes to the stars,
and set your goals high.
There is no limit as to how far you can go.
If you always think positive, then
Your Garden of Success will grow!

Say Congratulations to the Class of 1980

Congratulations Class Of 1980 Commencement Does Mean The Beginning . . .

And one thing that begins as you graduate from North Carolina Central University is your identification as an alumnus.

You are North Carolina Central University's best proof that our alma mater continues to make a vital contribution to society, to the state, to the nation, and to the world.

You are invited, as a graduate of this institution, to share the university's continued growth through membership in the North Carolina Central University Alumni Association. EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

PATSY WATTS

Dear N. C. C. U.

It has been a joy and an honor to be part of the force responsible for the production of the 1980 EAGLE. If after viewing this yearbook, a smile creeps across your face, then my goal has been accomplished. I hope that while viewing this book, each of you will attempt to forget some of the negative experiences you may have had during the year 1979-80 and look at this production with objectivity and compassion for those students who worked so hard to make it possible. At a time like this when all the work is done and the final page is ready for shipment to the printer, I cannot help but express my thanks again to all those who gave so much of their time and moral support to help put together this valuable document. Sincere appreciation goes out to Dean Blue, Dean Bryant, Mr. Rivera, Ms. Covington, Ms. Davis, Mr. A. Jay, the student union staff, Ex-umbra, Campus Echo, and last but not least the EAGLE STAFF: Larry Simpson, Business Manager; Marilyn Hopkins, Associate Editor; Orlando Neal, Willia Thomas, Dekota Grier, Sebrina Grier, Lisa Scott, Donna Peerman, Vanessa Anderson, Dee, Lori Conway, Wilhelmenia Devone, Darlene Hammond, Ronald Copeland, Betsy Valentine, Phyllis Steadman, Joe Decatur and Delmar Publishing Company.
